CALLING ALL ARTISTS & ART LOVERS

We are pleased to announce the first annual FCA Fall Art Fair on September 19 and 20. We will feature painters, sculptors, photographers, wood workers, jewelry makers, potters, mixed media artists, etc. This is a great opportunity for new artists to create interest in their work and for established artists to expand their customer base.

Booth rental is $50 for a 10' x 10' space. Applications will be accepted from May 1 through July 1 and can be obtained by calling the FCA. Exhibitor space is limited and a completed application does not guarantee a booth. We will make every effort to present a varied group of artists. All artwork must be original pieces created and sold by the artist. Absolutely no retail merchandise allowed. Artwork will be exhibited and available for sale Friday evening from 4-10 pm and Saturday from noon-5 pm.

This free event is open to the public and is sure to be a big hit for the FCA. Both days will feature live music and a hands on art project table for children and adults making this a fun event for the whole family. Appetizers prepared by Armitage Catering and drinks will be available for purchase.

FCA SCHOLARSHIP INTERVIEW

This month's scholarship recipient student, Daniel Kaskinen, is a member of both the Finnish Center Association and Finlandia Foundation National. He has done research on his great-great-grandfather's immigration from Finland to the United States, including printing the manifest logs from Ellis Island.

Dan currently attends Northwood University in Midland, Michigan. He is a junior and plans to graduate in May, 2009, thus completing five years of college courses in four years.

Q: What is your major and what are your career plans?

A: I am a triple major – Automotive Marketing/Aftermarket Management/Business Management. As for my career plans, I would love to work for one of the automobile manufacturers. If not that, I would also love to work for an automotive aftermarket company that makes performance parts for cars and trucks.

Q: What classes do you have now and have you had?

A: I am currently taking Logistics, Statistics, Parts Management, and a Cultural Elective class. In the past, I have taken classes including Accounting I-III, Philosophy, Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Aftermarket Retail/Wholesale Management, Finance and Insurance, Algebra, Statistics, Aftermarket Manufacturing Management, Dealership Advertising, Service and Body Management, Lean Distribution, and Business Law.

Q: What have been some of your favorite classes, and why were they significant to you?

A: Some of my favorite classes would be my Automotive Marketing and Aftermarket classes. What makes them my favorites is the fact that my professors have been in the business for years, and as a result, they have plenty of stories. It helps hearing these stories not only because they're usually pretty funny, but because it helps give me an idea of what I'll be getting myself into in a couple of years.

Q: What activities do you participate in, either in the community or the university?

A: I'm active in Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and serve as community service chair. We do everything from sponsoring blood drives to cleaning up our adopted street in Midland. I have been involved with Northwood University's Auto Show the past three years on three different teams. With Northwood, I have been on study abroad trips to London and Australia, I have been to Las Vegas for the SEMA show twice, and I will be going to San Francisco in the spring for the NADA convention where I will be doing moderator work.

Q: What work do you do, including paid and volunteer work?

A: I am a student tutor in my university's Timberwolf Learning Center while I am in school, and I work for my parents' business on breaks buying cars.

Q: Do you have a mentor who has helped you prepare for school and/or career? If so, how did this person help you?

A: I'm not too sure if I've had a mentor that prepared me for school, but I did have a high school teacher who said something that stuck with me. My teacher said something along the lines of "80% of success is just showing up." I realize that he didn't mean this literally, but I understood what he was trying to say. To me, I took that as "if you get off-track and quit going to your class/job/whatever, then things are going to snowball and you're going to wind up screwing yourself over." Simple enough, but definitely some important words.

Q: Describe one highlight of your university experience.

A: One highlight of my university experience was this past summer when I had the opportunity to study abroad in Australia. The whole trip was basically a highlight of my university experience. Two days stand out the most though: in back-to-back days, I went white water rafting and then bungee jumping. Needless to say, I had an incredible time, and that will definitely be something I'll never forget.

Q: How has the FCA scholarship helped you meet your educational goals?

A: The FCA scholarship has helped me meet my educational goals by helping me to pay for the trips such as my Australia study abroad trip. These trips are allowing me to graduate in four years instead of five, which was a pretty big goal of mine heading into my freshman year. As a result of those trips, I've been able to see amazing parts of the world that I've always dreamed of seeing. All in all, the FCA scholarship has helped my education be a great time instead of being stuck solely in a classroom.

Q: What advice would you give to high school students about how best to prepare for the university experience and for their career?

A: For preparing for the university experience, I think it's important to go in with an open-mind. It's important to try to get any negative stereotypes of people out of your head because you have more in common with the people you'll be going to school with than you think – after all, you did choose to go to the same school. As for career advice, have a good resume. If your resume is poor, there's a good chance you'll be passed over and barely even read.

Louise Hartung, for the FCA Scholarship Committee.

FINLAND TODAY

First, Finnish paper maker, UPM Kymmene Corp has opened a new label stock plant in Dixon, Illinois. The plant is part of UPM Kymmene's $400 million global program to expand its label manufacturing.

The new $100 million plant, run by the company's label division, UPM Raflatac, will produce pressure sensitive paper and film self adhesive products. The new plant is described as "the most innovative label stock production and distribution facility in the industry."

The UPM Raflatac division is a leading global maker of self-adhesive label materials and also develops radio frequency identification tags. It employs 2,700 people at 12 plants world wide.

UPM Kymmene is the world's largest magazine paper maker, employing 29,000 people world wide, with annual sales of $14 billion in 2007.

Finland's Wartsila Corp has signed a deal to produce two power plants for Brazilian companies. Both plants will produce 164 megawatts of power. Wartsila will build one plant for Borborema Energetica SA for $157 million, and one for Termeletrica Viana SA for $138 million. Both of the projects are turnkey projects. This brings the total to 18, the number of power plants that Wartsilla has built for Brazilian companies, with a total generating capacity of more than 1,100 megawatts of power.

The Finnish Patria Group, a defense and aerospace company, which is well known for its armored wheeled vehicles, is now also assembling helicopters. Patria has received a contract to assemble 50 helicopters for the European NHI Industries. Of these 50, 20 have been ordered by the Finnish Armed Forces. Sweden is another major customer of these NH90 helicopters.

Finland and Estonia have agreed to explore the possibility of linking the two capitals, Helsinki and Tallinn with a railway tunnel under the Baltic Sea. If built, it would be the world's longest, about 50 miles.

"We will start by applying for European Union financing for the study," says Helsinki Mayor Jussi Pajunen.

The study would be completed by the end of 2009, and the project would take more than 15 years to complete.

At the end of 2007, the official Finnish population was announced as 5,300,484. Of this, 2,546,787 were men and 2,703,697 were women.

During 2007, the population increased by 23,529. For the first time since Finland became independent, the increase in population was mainly because of people moving to Finland instead of natural growth.

The biggest age group was people who were born in 1948, of which there are 84,016. There were 458 people who were 100 years old or older. Of these, 60 were men and 398 were women. The biggest population growth was in the capital city area, with Helsinki increasing by 4,010, Espoo by 3,028 and Vantaa by 2,811.

The new President of Russia, Dmitri Medvedev, has ordered two luxury boats from Finland's Bella Oy boat manufacturer. Each of the Aquador model boats will cost about $315,000. Medvedev will keep one boat in the Moscow area, and the other near St. Petersburg.

At the World Synchronized Skating Championship held in Budapest, Hungary, the Rockettes team from Helsinki got the gold medal. Another team from Helsinki, Mari-gold Ice Unity came in 4th. It is the 4th gold medal for a Finnish team at a World Championship.

Finnish bowler, Mika Koivuniemi, living in Hartland, Michigan, came in second at the U.S. Open Bowling Championship, held in North Brunswick, New Jersey. Norm Duke won his first U.S. Open. Koivuniemi won the U.S. Open in 2001 when he beat Patrick Healey.

And finally, a young couple, Heikki and Hilma, have been trying to have a baby, but no luck. They decide to see Pastor Makela and ask him to pray for them. "Well, next week I'm moving to Finland for awhile, but I'll pray and keep a candle on for you." Three years later, Pastor Makela returns to his parish and went to the young couple's house for a visit. He found Hilma to be pregnant and attending to two sets of twins. Pastor Makela felt very elated and asked Hilma where Heikki was so he could congratulate him. "Actually, Heikki took off this morning", said Hilma. "Where did he go?", asked Pastor Makela. "To Helsinki, to ask you to stop praying, and to blow out that #@*&% candle."

OVER ON FINN DRIVE

This reminds me of a picture puzzle.

As you drive around the Finn Center building you can view many separate pieces that make up the FCA. There are two separate flag poles in the front of the building, one for the USA, and one for Finland. Different trees were planted, and separate gardens have been developed. A large copper nugget has a meaning and memories for different members. As you get inside the building there are many items of interest to individual members and to their families which cover the last 40 years the building has been around.

To build the Center, and to get to where it is today, it took a lot of sweat equity and it became a labor of love to put it all together. Those members of the FCA that have been here a long time before I, tell me that there was fund raising in many forms: donations of "One Brick at a Time", donations for a set of dishes and silverware, a push for replacement ceiling tiles, wood timbers for the outside façade, etc, etc.

Well here is a story I have to tell you. It is different. Much of the equipment in the kitchen has had lots of experience and has been used for many years. Some problems develop from too much heat as around the ovens, and others develop from not enough cold. Well this time it's the deep freezer unit. It quit. So now the question is, what can we do?

Have you ever heard the common saying, "Your check is in the mail?" Many of you have heard about the government spending bill: the "2008 Economic Stimulus Package" is in the works and the checks are about to be mailed. The purpose of this Stimulus Package is to spend it and get it out into the broader economy. We have two board members that are doing just that. They said that their $600 check will go to the Finnish Center to help pay for some freezer space in the kitchen. This is cold cash going into the cold freezer space. The timing is perfect. Isn't that different? Talk about enthusiasm!!

Kiitos paljon!

Frank Gottberg, Chairman

FROM THE FCA LIBRARY

St. Croix Avenue was Duluth's Finntown when Finnish immigration was at its height. One of the tours being offered during FinnFest is a St. Croix Avenue Walking Tour to see the sights of that district. I thought I would remind you that in the June/July issue of the FCA Newsletter I wrote a review of one of the books in our library entitled ST. CROIX AVENUE by Lauri Lemberg. It's the story of immigrants in that very area in the early 1900's. Now that we can make the connection, I thought perhaps the book would interest some of you. You'll find the book in fiction, F Le.

We also have some new additions to our collection:

A DAY IN OSTROBOTHNIA by Antti Tuuri, translated from the Finnish by Anselm Hollo. This is the fictional story of the Hakala family who on July 18, 1978 have gathered to divide the possessions left to them by their grandfather, who deserted their grandmother and lived in the U.S. for fifty years. A lot of reminiscing takes place, some of it interesting historical fact and some an interesting peek into the lifestyle of that era. Tuuri received the Nordic Prize in Literature for this work in 1985. Some have compared this work to Aleksis Kivi's SEVEN BROTHERS or Väinö Linna's trilogy UNDER THE NORTH STAR. Reviewers who have read the original Finnish edition say that Anselm Hollo did an excellent job of translating. You'll find this in fiction, F Tu.

HEATH COBBLERS (NUMMISUUTARIT) and KULLERVO (one of the characters in the KALEVALA) by Aleksis Kivi, translated by Douglas Robinson. Like SEVEN BROTHERS, these are also Finnish classics. This is the first English translation of Kivi's two most popular plays. Douglas Robinson has been translating Finnish to English since 1975. He is a member of both the American Translators Association and the Finnish-American Translators Association. Those who do not read Finnish are fortunate to have these made available to them. This can be found in 894 Ki.

FINNISHNESS IN FINLAND AND NORTH AMERICA consists of six articles on the subject, edited by Pauliina Raento. These authors examine Finnish identity in, among other things, the realms of food culture, contemporary photography and Finnish national landscape, Finland-Swedish identity, and so on. This is the kind of book from which you can choose to read only the chapters that interest you, and leave the rest, if you wish. I found it interesting. Find the book in 301.29 Fi.

A HISTORY OF FINNISH LITERATURE by Jaakko Ahokas. Here you will find exactly what the title suggests. We have shelved it in 894 Ah.

For the children we have acquired:

A LITTLE PEOPLE'S BEGINNING ON MICHIGAN by Lois Parker, David McConnell and Theresa Deeter. Dewey number J 977.4 Pa

MIINAN JA MANUN LIIKENNE AAPINEN by one who calls himself only Teutori. This is a VERY easy reader. There's no law against adults reading it also, if you want some beginning reading practice. The book is in J 494 Te.

MIINAN JA MANUN SEIKKAILU LAPISSA, also by Teutori, with Petri Merta. The recommendation from above applies to this book also. It's in J 494 Me.

HOW TO DRAW INDIAN ARTS AND CRAFTS by John Meiczinger. The title is self-explanatory. The book is in J 740 Me.

That's all for now!

Lillian Lehto, Librarian

FINNISH AMERICAN HISTORICAL SOCIETY

All members and friends: mark your calendars for the Annual Meeting to be held in the FCA lounge on Saturday, May 17 at 2:00 pm. We will elect officers and hear from the Independence Day planning committee regarding the progress on an exciting program which will take place in December. There will be a coffee table. Do come.

RECEPTION FOR 2008 SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

On Sunday afternoon, May 18, at 2:00 pm a reception will be held to honor five scholarship recipients and their families and friends in the FCA lounge.

A former recipient may join us to tell of his experiences since having received his award. Every one is welcome to attend this annual event.

Ruth Kaarlela, Scholarship Committee

GARDENS

We can only hope that May will start out better than April. The April 1 meeting had 14 of us excited about getting out into the gardens. However, Mother Nature had an April Fool's joke for all of us. The balmy 57 degree weather we saw at 8 am had cooled down to the 30's at the start of the meeting with blustery 30 mile an hour winds. Needless to say we huddled together in the garage to meet and keep warm.

We did make a bang up start on cleaning and organizing the garage finding many lost garden items in the process. Unfortunately an assessment of the main building found that it does not have any gutters to support rain barrels so we find we are in desperate need of garden hoses to water the gardens. If you have any to donate, please contact any member of the Garden Club. We will try to install a short gutter section on the back of the garage to support rain barrels for the vegetable gardens.

Keep on the lookout for several new signs in the gardens. Three gardens will have memorial tribute signs installed. The cost of these memorial tributes are $75.00 for one year. Continuing costs are $50.00 after the first year. If you do not wish to continue the support after this first year, the sign is yours to keep.

We will be expanding the vegetable garden area with plots available on a first come basis. Plots are about 8' x 5' with a cost of $25.00 plus a $10.00 first year membership fee. Additional plots are $20.00. If you know any scout troops, high school students, church or school groups, who would like a plot; they may either contact Gayle Gullen or you or they may pick up a flyer at the FCA.

Anyone with an interest in gardening irregardless of their abilities or age is encouraged to become involved in the gardens. Once warm weather arrives you will see many of us at various times and days working outside around the FCA. We hope to have at least one evening per week (likely Monday) for those members who work days and have a few hours one evening to help out. Many hands will lessen the workload of maintaining the numerous gardens which enhance the façade of the FCA.

The next club meeting will be May 5 at 10 am with a second short meeting at 5 pm at the garage. The Garden Club is also sponsoring the Open House on May 25 from 1-4. We will have plants and seeds as well as edgers available at the Open House.

Call 734-453-1379 or 734-546-5190 for more information about the FCA Garden Club or any of the above items or email me at gaylegullen@hotmail.com
